

CLAIRE LEE

ART DIRECTION
GRAPHIC DESIGN

leeclairej.com
craiglee5810@gmail.com
310 365 8555

Airbnb

Airbnb provides you home, no matter where you are at.
Enjoy the same home experience in any cities around the world.

Paris, France

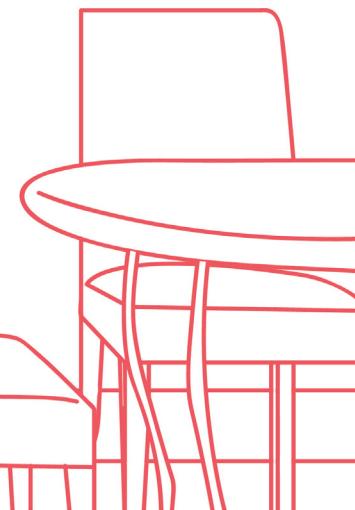

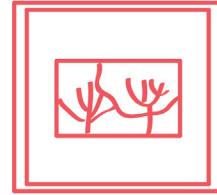

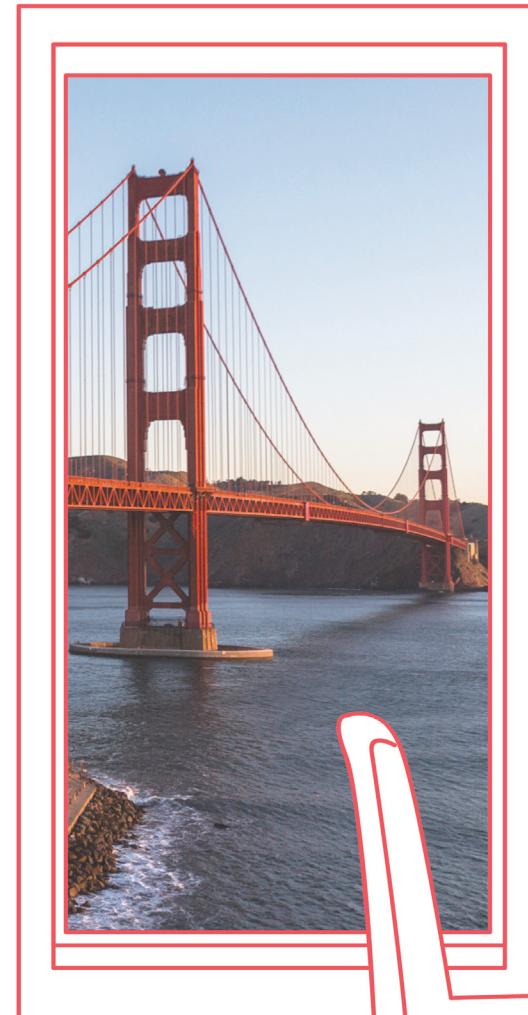

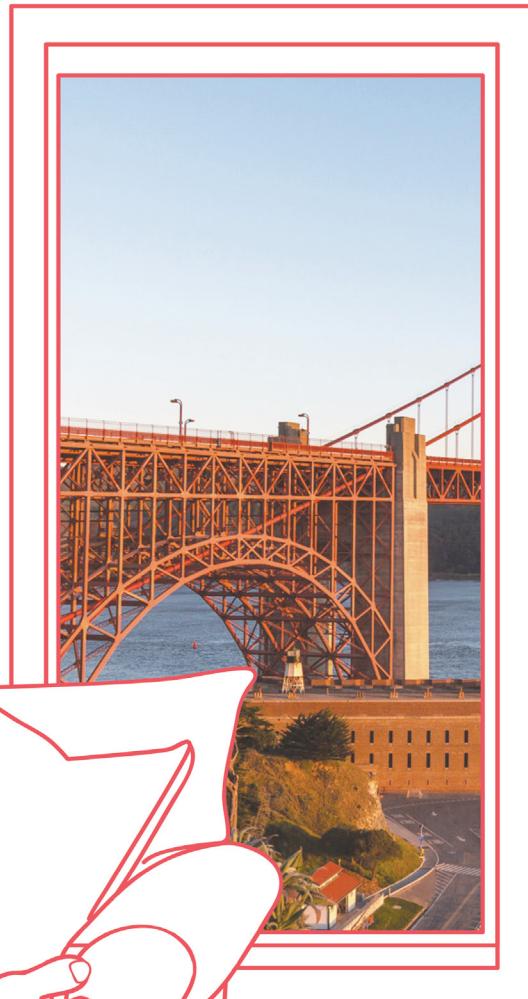

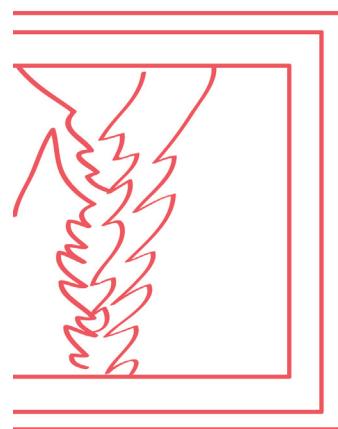

Discover Your New Home.

San Francisco, CA, United States

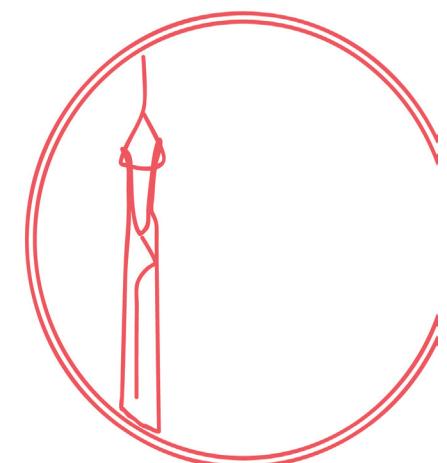

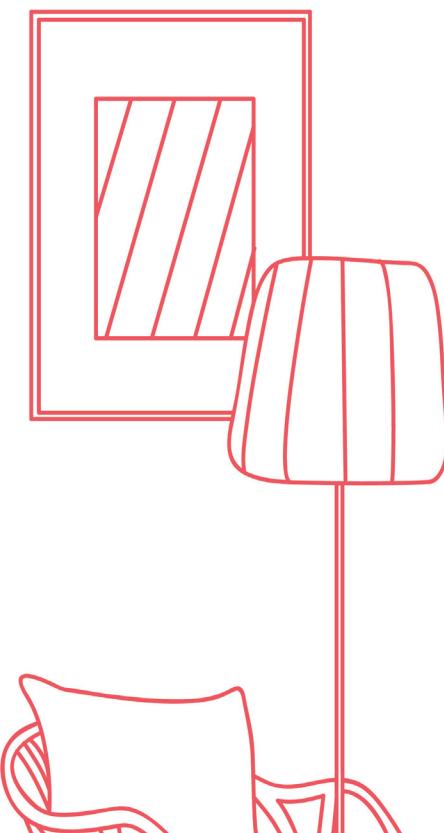

Discover Your New Home.

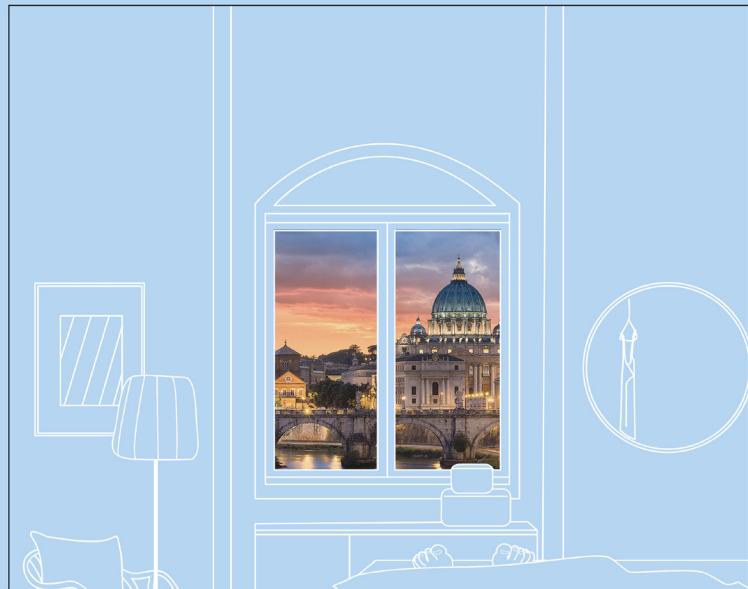

Rome, Italy

Discover Your New Home.

AN ABSOLUTE BLAST

EATING PASTA AND GELATO FOR EVERY MEAL.

WORDS BY LAUREN MESHKIN
ILLUSTRATION BY CLAIRE LEE

You definitely need to spend a few moments taking it all in, ignoring the men trying to sell you selfie sticks, and just appreciate this magnificent wonder of the world which is almost 2,000 years old.

Visiting in the summer was out of the question. I'm not a fan of extreme heat and large crowds make me anxious. Autumn sounded ideal but prices tend to still be sky high as their peak season stretches out into the beginning of November. The only thing I was sure about was my destination: Rome.

While I never imagined visiting Rome in the winter, I had some free time towards the end of February so I decided to just go for it. Off season travel, depending on the destination, has always interested me. Benefits such as lower prices and fewer people tend to overshadow the risk of terrible weather. After all, I was going to Rome, not the North Pole.

Trust me. For me, the Colosseum is one of those famous and ancient sights that lives up to every single one of my expectations. Standing in front of it was almost a bit overwhelming. Then, if you're like me, proceed to take about a million photos.

After the Colosseum, we walked up to Palatine Hill and enjoyed the lush, green hills that made us feel far away from the noisy city down below. I especially loved the oddly shaped Pine trees that were scattered all throughout. Oh, and the ancient ruins around every corner were interesting too.

I had never been surrounded by so many ruins in my entire life. I snapped a few photos on my phone and sent it to my friend who said "It looks like what Atlantis would look like if you drained all the water."

These illustrations are taken for Airbnb's monthly newsletter to introduce real user's travel experience.

HIPPIES AND HIPSTERS

GOLD BRINGING ADVENTUROUS SOULS.

WORDS BY DANIEL WATSON-WELLER
ILLUSTRATION BY CLAIRE LEE

Walk down from Fort Mason and go West. Here are sweeping views of the Golden Gate Bridge. The views will take your breath away and don't forget that you are standing on a beach within one of the most eccentric metropolitan cities in the world.

This city starts early with a lot of day drinking at brunch and heads into the night ready to go. Jazz to world class DJ's the nightlife is as diverse as the population and can range into every style and experience. Want the underground dance scene? Public Works is an open space used not only for DJ's but as well as a venue for cutting edge expositions in the wild world of SF art. The best cluster of bars is on Polk street but the neighborhoods of North Beach, Marina, Mission all provide excellent venues for delicious cocktails, local beer and wine. For jazz and blues my favorite spot is Rasselass Jazz Club as they never have a cover and are really down to earth. Cafe du Nord, a music venue/nightclub/restaurant, has a lot of alternative local sounds. In the last 10 years San Francisco, a city that embraces all and everyone, has started a love affair with hipsters. The Mission District is the unofficial home to hipsters, replete with their vintage threads and fixed gear bikes. If it is sunny go to Dolores Park to start your walking tour. From there, stroll down Valencia Street all the way to 24th street which bring you from the Inner Mission to the Outer Mission. As you go down 24th Street you will see the remaining elements of a once fully Hispanic and Latin American neighbourhood in the throes of gentrification. The beauty and grit of this area has not disappeared and the murals and street art are as vivid as ever.

29

A LITTLE ROMANCE

OOH LA LA, FALLING IN LOVE WITH PARIS.

WORDS BY THE TRAVELHACK
ILLUSTRATION BY CLAIRE LEE

It's actually borderline too gorgeous because once I was inside my suite I didn't want to leave. Paris may be the city of love and one of the most romantic places in the world but today I've been having a little romance with the city itself. It turns out I LOVE Paris.

I spent the day wandering among some of the main attractions, stopping for cafe lattes and macaroons, shopping in the boutique stores and generally loving every corner of this gorgeous city.

I arrived on Thursday afternoon and, rather than sharing my travel tips and reviews just yet, I thought I'd share the journal I've been scribbling in each time I stop for a rest. I can't believe I'd forgotten how much I love the Eurostar. It's just so easy and comfortable.

Sometimes it isn't until you experience something really good that you realize just how crap the alternative is. You know, like flying on a budget airline to Paris.

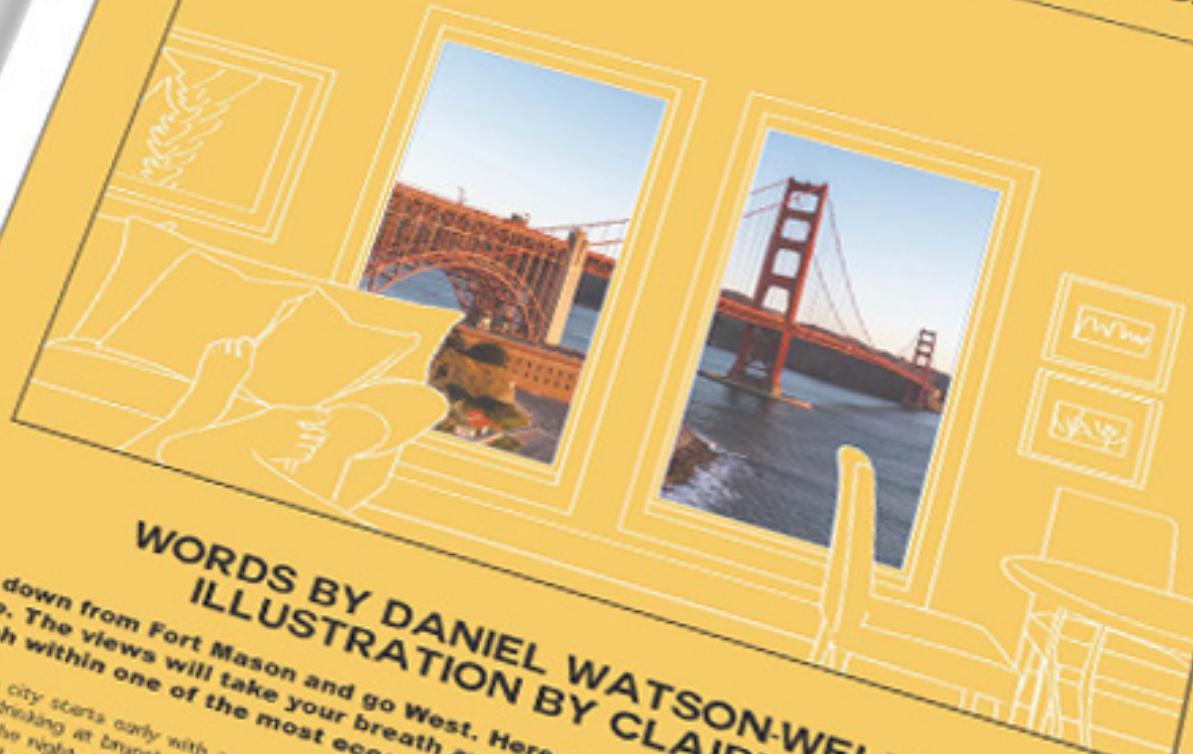

With the Eurostar there are no queues, no hassle, no long waits and no idiot holding up the security queue with their ginormous bottles of liquids. After a breakfast of croissants, muesli and orange juice I sat back and watched the French countryside pass me by and I arrived in less than 2 hours.

I slept with my curtains open so once again woke up to that incredible view. Waking up to a pinky sky and the Eiffel Tower was an absolute dream come true and I had to tear myself away.

After another breakfast of croissants and fresh fruit I took the short walk to the Eiffel Tower. I wandered around taking photos while doing my very best to avoid all the scammers and touts. I decided not to go up the tower because the queue was so long and I had so much I wanted to see.

HIPPIES AND HIPSTERS

GOLD BRINGING ADVENTUROUS SOULS.

WORDS BY DANIEL WATSON-WELLER
ILLUSTRATION BY CLAIRE LEE

Walk down from Fort Mason and go West. Here are sweeping views of the Golden Gate Bridge. The views will take your breath away and don't forget that you are standing on a beach within one of the most eccentric metropolitan cities in the world.

The city starts early with a lot of day drinking at brunch and heads into the night ready to go. Jazz to world class DJ's the night-life is as diverse as the population and can range into ivy style and experience. Want the underground dance scene? Public Works is an open space used not only for DJ's but as well as a venue for cutting edge expositions in the wild world of SF art. The best cluster of bars is on Polk street but the neighborhood of North Beach, Marina, Mission or provide excellent venues for delicious cocktails, local beer and wine. For jazz and blues my favorite spot is Razzlebelz Jazz Club as they never have a cover and are really down to earth. Cafe du Nord, a music venue/nightclub/restaurant, has a lot of alternative sounds.

In the last 10 years San Francisco, a city that embraces all and everyone, has started a love affair with hipsters. The Mission District is the unofficial home to hipsters,�품 with their vintage threads and fixed gear bikes. If it is sunny go to Dolores Park to start your walking tour. From there, a stroll down Valencia Street will bring you from the Inner Mission to the Outer Mission. As you go down 24th Street you will see the remaining elements of a once fully Hispanic and Latin American neighbourhood in the throes of gentrification. The beauty and grit of this area has not disappeared and the murals and street art

TRAVELHACK CLAUDE LEE

I was inside my suite I didn't want to miss the most romantic places in the world myself. It turns out I LOVE Paris.

I slept with my curtains open so once again woke up to that incredible view. Walking up to the Eiffel Tower was an absolute dream come true and I had to myself say,

After another breakfast of eggs and bacon but I took a walk to the Eiffel Tower. I turned around taking photos of my way back to my room and found up the tower because it was so long and I had to

Difference Makes Us Stronger

Los Angeles is home to more than 3.5 million immigrants. The bullying of immigrant children is generated by a lack of understanding and acceptance for differences. We should overcome this by valuing differences. This video was designed to promote the campaign “We are all different, but difference makes us stronger”.

A photograph of a silver iMac computer monitor. The screen displays a news article from the Los Angeles Times. The headline reads "Get rid of discriminations in school - Video gets more than 150 million views". Below the headline is a thumbnail image of the classroom scene from the top illustration. To the right of the thumbnail, there is a sidebar with text and a small portrait of a woman. At the bottom of the screen, there is another news snippet about Granada Hills Charter High School winning the national Academic Decathlon.

Preppy Lookbook

The Preppy Lookbook App is a mobile application inspired by The Official Preppy Handbook by Lisa Birnbach, primarily focusing on outfits.

Better than a Cup of Rice

Ice cream that everyone wants,
even for the meal.

dippin'
dots

Dippin' Dots

As a kid, you always wanted to skip a meal and have the ice cream instead. Dippin' Dots brings the nostalgia back, and you still want to have Dippin' Dots for a meal.

Better than a
Plate of Steak

Ice cream that everyone wants,
even for the meal.

Better than a
Bowl of Soup

Ice cream that everyone wants,
even for the meal.

EVERYONE
NEEDS
A DIFFERENT SHAVE

Dollar Shave Club

Dollar Shave Club is the easiest way to have great blades show up in front of your house. Everyone has different shaving cycle and beard. Dollar Shave Club provides personalized blade razor delivery system for every shaver.

EVERYONE
NEEDS A DIFFERENT SHAVE

DOLLAR SHAVE CLUB
SHAVE TIME. SHAVE MONEY.

EVERYONE
NEEDS A DIFFERENT SHAVE

DOLLAR SHAVE CLUB
SHAVE TIME. SHAVE MONEY.

EVERYONE
NEEDS A DIFFERENT SHAVE

EVERYONE
NEEDS A DIFFERENT SHAVE

DOLLAR SHAVE CLUB
© 2012 DSC

Type Specimen Poster

Explored basic typography by designing type specimen poster for Times New Roman. Times New Roman is a classy type commonly used in books, periodicals, brochures, newspapers, and more.

24 X 36"